Courthouse to Get More Face-Lifting

The Pettis County courthouse will receive some more face lifting soon. Bids were opened Friday on part of the work and some more bids will be opened Monday.

The first floor lobby was just recently redecorated and now the remainder of it will receive a new look. An old canvas ceiling in the assembly room and the County Court room will be removed and replaced with a new modern acoustical type ceiling. In many places the old canvas ceilings were beginning to sag from the years' accumulation of paint and dirt.

The rest of the courthouse will be painted to harmonize with the pastel green, pink and white color scheme used in the first floor lobby. Also, new lighting will be installed in several places.

Postman Sues Owner Of Dog For $100,000

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Postman Edward Serven, 42, said in a Supreme Court action yesterday that the same dog has bitten him 18 times in 11 years. Serven filed a claim for $100,000 against the dog's owner. The postman said the 18th bite caused him to fall in shrubbery and permanently injure his back. Now, he said, he must carry his mail in a cart.

Howle's wife, Eileen, a high school teacher at Cairo, Ill., was in a hospital in Cape Girardeau, Mo., at the time.

Howle was a butcher.

Christmas Radiance

The weather can't seem to make up its mind what to do, but it doesn't matter. The youngsters see nothing but sunshine these days.

Mostly cloudy with rainshowers or light snow likely today and tonight. Monday partly cloudy and somewhat warmer. A little colder today with high in upper 30's.

The temperature Saturday was 37 at 7 a.m. and 50 at 1 p.m. The low Friday night was 35.

The temperature one year ago today, high 64, low 38; two years ago, high 56, low 34; and three years ago, high 18, low 3 degrees below zero.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks Saturday 91.3, fall 3.

Hungarian Relief Fund Contributions Lagging

The Pettis County Red Cross Chapter has received a little over $700 toward its $884 goal for Hungarian Relief. Reports from a national level indicate contributions continue to lag behind. Less than half of the national $5,000,000 goal has been contributed.

In a report from the National Red Cross Chairman, E. Roland Harriman, it is pointed out that a $5 contribution will pay for any one of the following items: food for ten refugees for one day, 42 jars of baby food, a day's vitamin needs for 600 persons, tetanus antitoxin to treat three injured persons, or 250 doses of penicillin.

Sedalia Oil Firms Wage Gasoline War

Local Stations Slash Gas Prices As Much as 5 1/2c

Sedalia motorists are enjoying their first real gasoline war in years. Prices went dropping Friday afternoon and Saturday as much as five and a half cents. It all started Friday evening when the Imperial Oil Co. announced the first slash in price.

Imperial announced a cut to 19.9 cents on regular and 21.9 on their premium gasoline. Then the Hudson Oil Co. announced their stations in Sedalia were meeting the cut.

Friday night major oil company representatives in Sedalia were busy endeavoring to locate company officials to get an approval to meet the cut. The majority of the major offices were closed Friday evening after business to remain closed until Wednesday morning.

However, Saturday the Standard Oil Co. announced cutting the price of regular gasoline from 26.9 cents per gallon to 21.4 cents and on Ethyl the price was dropped from 28.9 cents per gallon to 23.4. It was a brief period after Standard Oil Co. had posted their prices that all other major oil companies announced the price as dropping to the same price as Standard.

It was explained the major companies' price on gasoline usually is two cents higher than the cut-rate stations.

The Clark Oil Co., which only recently opened a new station in Sedalia, waited until the major companies announced their prices. Clark's then cut its gasoline from 27.9 to 22.9. It was explained they handled only one grade of gasoline and it was priced one cent under the premium gasoline of most companies and higher on regular.

Jerry Brown's Service Stations dropped their prices to 18.9 and 21.9, their cent difference from the independent companies being due to the City tax for stations inside the City Limits.

The major oil companies which joined in the cut were Skelly, Texaco, Phillips 66, Sinclair, Socony, Mobil Oil Co., Cities Service, D-X Sunray Oil Co., Conoco Continental Oil Co., Tydol-Franklin Co. Oil Co.

Asked if this was a "gasoline war," an Imperial Co. representative replied, "It's a Christmas cut to our patrons over Christmas."

Motorists will be eyeing price boards the next few days for "bargain prices."

Santa Plays Carols, Sells Christmas Trees

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When a costume-bedecked Santa Claus set up his Christmas tree stand replete with carols, bells and canes, neighbors objected. They found he was playing carols over a loud-speaker system while selling his trees. But police reported he could not be quieted down—the public address system was turned as low as it would go.

Freak Blast Puts Three in Hospital

FREAK CAR BLAST INJURES SISTER-IN-LAW—Three sisters-in-law, painfully burned in a freak car explosion at Hooker, Okla., are sharing the same Liberal, Kan., hospital room and hopes of getting home for Christmas. The women are, left to right: Mrs. Oleta Loring, Hooker, Okla. In Hooker for a family reunion, the women were riding in a car when one struck a match to a cigarette. Instantaneous explosion rocked the car, shattered the windows and threw the women from the auto which rolled on down the street. Officers believe the blast was caused either from butane fuel used to operate the car or from fumes from cleaning fluid used recently on the car's interior. All three women received second degree burns of hands and face and less serious body burns. (NEA Telephoto).

Last British, French Troops Leave Egypt Without Trouble

Police Officers Help—

Santa Claus Spends Six Hours Passing Out Treat to Children

Santa Claus spent six long hours at the Sedalia Police Station Saturday, with a 30 minute rest period to have his dinner. Old Santa and his helpers, the police officers, provided Christmas candy to more than 4,500 children from Sedalia and surrounding communities whose parents were in Sedalia Christmas shopping.

There were times during the day when officers had to direct traffic at Second and Osage to let the children cross and to get the traffic moving without endangering many children standing in line waiting their turn to see the jolly old man.

"When police can take their off-time to get to the station, put up a Christmas tree and entertain so many children, I can do my small part," a well-known Sedalian said. "Here's a check for $50 to put in the Christmas tree fund. It's wonderful to see these children coming, meeting the police and having Old Santa there to shake their hand after getting their treats."

The man was driving past the station in his car, had to look for a parking place and then walked back to make his Christmas contribution.

A lady, with her two grandchildren from New York, stopped in. The children were presented their candy and oranges, shook hands with Santa, and started out. The lady walked up to the office window and said, "It isn't much, but it will help some of the others. Put this in the tree fund," and she handed some money to the desk sergeant.

Old Santa got one postcard, but he got thousands requests for presents. Those verbal requests were almost like the card from little Kathy Lewis, who wrote, "Dear Santa: I want a bicycle, a bride doll, a cabinet, a stove, a refrigerator, a sink, a ball, a ballerina doll, some clothes for my dolls, a chalk blackboard. Thank you, Kathy Lewis."

There was a line out and around the city hall at 10:30, and the police station doors were opened at 11 o'clock just as Santa arrived. Then the parade of parents with their children started. It kept a steady stream through the police headquarters until 5 o'clock, when the Santa had to leave to make other visits.

Police officers on the afternoon shift arrived to handle the situation, assisted by officers of the traffic and meter department. Then at change time, the morning shift and members of the night shift came in to take over until closing time.

The desk of Willard Morris was piled with oranges, and there were boxes upon boxes of sacked candies.

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors was on hand, meeting them all. The candy, obtained through the Zero Market, was sacked by the members of the Pettis County American Legion Post No. 16, police auxiliary and members of the Smith-Cotton High School Student Council.

It was a big day at police headquarters and when 5 o'clock arrived there were a bunch of tired police officers who reported they enjoyed every minute of it.

Funds for the Christmas tree were made possible through the policeman's annual dance, and contributions made by various business houses in money and fruit, while many individuals also contributed money.

Planes Give Escort That Is Not Needed

UN Police Troops Immediately Move In To Patrol Port Said

AT SEA WITH THE BRITISH-FRENCH TASK FORCE, Dec. 22 (AP)—The last British and French troops left Egypt tonight, ending a seven-week-old adventure that from a military viewpoint got nowhere.

An umbrella of night fighter planes provided protection for the last few British soldiers and tanks as they moved aboard a landing craft and sailed away on the blue Mediterranean.

No protection was needed. A few streaks of tracer fire from Egyptian guns lit the sky but none came from the beachhead.

The blue-helmeted troops of the U. N. police force took over Port Said.

The last French units, a battalion of infantry and a squadron of tanks, left earlier from the eastern banks of the harbor entrance to the Suez Canal.

This was E-Day and the last man got off the beach at 6:45 p.m.

The Egyptian barrage was bigger than anything yet seen these past few weeks. Hundreds of shots resounded through the city, but all were aimed at the sky.

Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, commander of the British-French forces, received word from the United Nations that one of their officers had seen the kidnapped British Lt. Anthony Moorhouse in Port Said this morning, and that the Egyptians had agreed to release him. The Egyptians said they could let him go only when an Egyptian army officer arrived to supervise the turnover, probably tomorrow.

Stockwell said the decision to release the lieutenant appeared to be a result of United Nations work. He did not elaborate. The lieutenant was captured 11 days ago.

State Receives Emergency Polio Funds of $5,375

A total of $5,375 in polio emergency aid funds was sent to Missouri to augment dwindling local reserves during the month of November, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today.

The advances, covering the period of Nov. 5 to Nov. 30, raised total grants to Missouri during 1956 to $1,825, the Foundation said. This aid was sent to 17 chapters. Seven other chapters have requests for aid pending in the amount of $12,016.47. It is expected before the end of the year.

The November advances went to two local Foundation chapters, with Butler County receiving the largest emergency aid grant—$4,425—and Stoddard County receiving $950.

The Foundation has supplied 11 respirators for emergency use in Missouri in the first 11 months of 1956, of which seven were "iron lungs" and four chest respirators.

Polio cases in Missouri during the year had climbed to 402 as of Dec. 1, according to the Division of Health of Missouri—almost 7 per cent more than the number of cases reported for the same period in 1955.

Predicts International Police Unit to Become A Highly Mobile Force

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted today the United Nations police force in Egypt will become the nucleus of "a permanent small, highly mobile U. N. force that could move quickly into any area."

Sparkman told reporters he may ask Congress to recommend this course if the United Nations itself does not act in the next few months to set up a permanent police force to help keep world peace. He said he was thinking in terms of a unit of less than army size.

The senator recalled that he had advanced this idea in Congress in 1950. He introduced a resolution then which suggested that this country work for the creation of a permanent U. N. force of volunteers recruited from nations other than the major powers. The resolution failed to pass.

No Garbage Pickup Will Be Made Tuesday

There will be no garbage pickup Tuesday, Christmas Day, but the pick-up will be made on Wednesday.

Versailles Man Begins Term in Jail

VERSAILLES, Mo., Dec. 22 (AP)—William Cheney began serving a 10-day sentence in the county jail today because he and his wife won't send their daughter to a school they consider unsafe.

When Cheney finishes his term, his wife will start serving her 10-day sentence. The arrangement permits one of the parents to be home with their two children.

The jail accommodates 15 prisoners, but Cheney was the only prisoner in it today. He said he has not decided whether to accept Sheriff Corrie Wood's offer to let him go home for Christmas provided he makes up the free time by staying in jail an extra day at the end of the term.

Mrs. Wood said she'd give Cheney a special Christmas dinner of chicken or turkey if he doesn't go home for the holiday. The Cheneys live at nearby Eldon where he is a high school teacher. She is a former teacher.

Three weeks ago Circuit Judge Claude E. Curtis ruled that the Cheneys were illegally keeping their daughter, Stephanie, 7, out of the second grade at the rural Rock Island school.

The Cheneys contended the school yard is dangerous because it has an open cave and children are not supervised at play. They also said Stephanie was being taught at home.

They lacked the money to carry out an appeal from the 10-day sentences and $10 fines. Cheney said.

Today as he went up to a block of cells in the 12-year-old jail, Cheney shook his head and said: "I just can't imagine Irene (his wife) in a place like this."

As to Cheney being the sole prisoner, the sheriff smiled and commented that the holiday period might see another prisoner or two brought in.

Asked in the jail whether he still considered it important to take the position the Cheneys did in the face of Missouri's compulsory school attendance law, Cheney replied he would be able to answer that after he finishes his term.

But when the couple is out of jail "We are going to leave this state as quickly as we can," he said.

He said he had been told that under the law they must send Stephanie back to school within three days after it reopens at the end of the Christmas vacation. He hopes the sentences can be completed before any possible new action against them might be started.

Cheney, quiet and with a ready grin, took big bundles of newspapers into the Morgan County jail. He said they were past issues of the New York Times and that he intends to spend much time reading, especially the book review sections. He was a B-29 pilot during World War II.

The cells looked as well furnished as the quarters of the sheriff and his wife. The Woods have moved most of their furniture to Kansas City where they will live after Dec. 31 when J. T. Hull, newly elected, succeeds Wood as sheriff.

Military Academy Band Is Official State Marching Unit

MEXICO, Mo. (AP)—Missouri Military Academy's band will be the official Missouri marching unit in President Eisenhower's second inaugural parade, Col. C. R. Stribling, president of the academy, announced today.

Designation of the MMA organization for the honor was made by Perry Compton, state GOP chairman, E. W. Bromwich, national committeeman, and Mrs. Georgeanne Hedges, national committeewoman.

The 38 piece band led by Cadet Captain Sam Bird of Wichita, Kan., has performed for civic functions throughout Missouri and for military functions on the academy campus.

Holiday Traffic Fatalities Mount Through Nation

By The Associated Press
Christmas holiday traffic left a fast mounting death toll in its wake Saturday.

At least 149 persons were killed throughout the nation from 6 p. m. Friday to late afternoon Saturday, in a tragic crash of auto accidents. Another 7 died in fires, and miscellaneous mishaps took 9 lives for an overall accident toll of 165.

The fatality pace of the first day in a four-day, 102-hour holiday weekend tally would easily set a grim new all-time record for holiday traffic deaths.

A crush of millions of automobiles, and bad visibility conditions from widespread fog and drizzle in the East and Midwest contributed to the heavy early toll.

The National Safety Council estimated before the holiday that 600 persons would die in traffic—a toll well above the all-time traffic fatality mark of 609 set in last year's 3-day Christmas weekend.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said the early death count bore out calculations of his engineers.

Accidents

Slight damage resulted but no one received injuries when a 1954 Ford driven by Harold L. Stahl, Kansas City, and a 1953 Dodge driven by Fred Neidholdt, 1720 South Montgomery, collided at 16th and Thompson at 2:42 p.m. Friday.

The left door on the Ford was dented while the right rear fender and door of the Neidholdt vehicle was smashed.

Two vehicles were slightly damaged Friday at 6 p.m. in a mishap at 1421 South Beacon. Involved were a 1956 Mercury driven by Joseph R. Allen, 1421 South Beacon, and a 1955 Ford owned by Ralph Jenkins, Alexandria, La.

Sedalia police officers investigated the accidents.

Two cars were in collision at Third and Mill about 11:05 p.m. Friday but all occupants escaped injury.

Involved was a 1947 Chevrolet sedan driven by David Hall, 2301 First St. Terrace, who was making a left turn off Third onto Mill, and Omar S. Garrett, 2017 South Grand, who was driving a 1956 Buick tudor sedan east on Third.

The right rear fender and bumper on the Chevrolet were damaged and the left front end of the Buick was damaged.

A street light in the 1400 block on South Carr was knocked down when a 1950 Packard sedan backed into the light pole in front of 1415 South Carr, about 9:11 p.m. Friday.

Albert Reine, 17, Route 5, was backing out of a driveway when the car bumped the pole. The lamp shade and bulb dropped to the street. A short developed in the fixture and the Missouri Public Service Co. rushed a repair truck to the scene to make the necessary repairs.

Slight damage resulted but no one received injuries when a 1957 Chevrolet, driven by J. E. Hartcock, 1218 South Ohio, and a 1951 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Lou Richardson, Windsor, collided near the Show-Me Motel on Limit Ave. at 6:37 p.m. Saturday.

Sedalia Police investigated the accident.

A one-car accident on East Highway 50, just east of the Brown Service Station, resulted to damages to a 1955 Plymouth sedan, and no reportable injuries.

William Collins, 21, Route 3, Sedalia, reported he was headed east on the concrete pavement when his car went into a spin and he crashed into a ditch on the south side of the highway. One door, the right side of the car and top were damaged.

The accident occurred about 10:30 p.m.

Fires

Fire of undetermined origin did about $25 damages to the garage at the residence of Arnold Willis, 1007 South Vermont, at 5:15 p.m. Saturday. Both fire companies answered the alarm.

Police Reports

David Parkhurst, Route 3, Sedalia, reported to the police he placed $35 worth of Christmas presents in the wrong automobile parked at Seventh and Lamine. He thought the car belonged to his brother, as it had a dealer's tag on it the same as his brother's and was the same colored car.

If anyone finds the presents, he is requested to contact the police department.

The front door to the Ivan Berry Hatchery, West Second, was found open by the police at 6:12 p.m. Friday. The owner was notified and locked the door.

The overhead door to the K.C. Salvage Co., 420 West Second, was found unlocked by police at 9:06. The officer closed the door. The owner could not be located.

A boy's bicycle, Montgomery Ward make, was found at the Missouri Public Service Co., power plant on East Broadway Friday evening. It was taken to police headquarters.

H. O. Foraker, 306 West Third, reported to the police that thieves stole a string of Christmas tree lights from a tree in his front yard sometime Thursday night.

Ralph Dove, Green Ridge, claimed the box containing a surveyor tripod and other tools which were found several days ago in the driveway of the Stout junk yard. He reported he lost them off of his truck.

Clarence Weathers, poundmaster, reported his Smith-Wesson .22-caliber pistol taken from the locker room of the police station sometime Saturday morning. He had taken it off, laid it down and was called to the telephone. When he returned, the gun was gone.

Police were called to 2100 block on South Engineer where boys were shooting guns. Gone when police arrived.

GUY BAILEY HONORED—G. D. Bailey, retiring superintendent of the Missouri Pacific Shops, was honored Friday by MoPac personnel with the presentation of a 10 h.p. outboard motor and carrying cart at an informal retirement party held in his office. Mrs. Bailey was also presented with a gift.

The picture shows the Baileys standing in the center before the outboard motor. Bailey was commended for his fine record in a brief speech by W. R. Sugg, mechanical superintendent Western District, Kansas City. Sugg praised Bailey for his excellent safety program which has resulted in a perfect safety record for 1956. G. V. Glenn, assistant superintendent diesel equipment; W. L. Steele, chief boiler inspector; and Al Torian, public relations representative, all from St. Louis, were also present.

Also in attendance were: General Foreman H. M. Kelly; District Storekeeper K. H. Hoffman; Reclamation Plant Superintendent H. M. Lambirth; J. M. Blue, retired supervisor-roller bearing; George D. Franklin, president of the Federated Shop Crafts, representing the shop employees; and Mrs. Marvin C. Hazel, secretary to the superintendent and sister of Mrs. Bailey. (Torian photo)

Would Retire Workers at 60--

To Present Pension Bill For Missouri Employees

Jefferson City — (MPA) —The Missouri association has learned that legislation to permit state employees to retire at the age of 60 after 20 years of service will be presented to the 69th general assembly.

Last week state workers approved a pension system which will be offered in the form of a bill to the legislature. All state government employees not now covered by a pension plan will be included under the proposal. Members of the state legislature would also be included.

Gov. Elect James T. Blair has indicated that he will ask the legislature in his inaugural message to set up a state retirement system. In 1955, the 68th general assembly turned down a proposed pension for all state workers but set up a retirement system for highway patrolmen and highway department employees.

A committee representing six state agencies was set up last summer to work out a pension plan for state employees. State workers voluntarily contributed 50 cents each and $5,000 was collected to hire an actuary to draw up the pension plan.

A. Mansur Tebbetts of the actuarial firm of Morris, Seal & Tebbetts, St. Louis, said the proposed plan for state workers was based on personnel records of 11,193 Missouri government workers. Tebbetts said the pension plan could be financed by contributions of four per cent of workers salary, matched by a like contribution from the state. He estimated that it would take 35 years to pay for the pension of those who would retire immediately without making any contributions to the system. The actuary said the retirement system planned for introduction to the state legislature would dovetail with social security benefits. The state benefits would be based on years of service times 5/6 of one per cent times the average annual compensation of the employees best five years. The top salary on which pensions would be paid would be $7,500 a year.

Thus if an employee best average pay for five years was $3600 and he was retiring at 65 after 35 years of service, he would receive a state pension of $1,050 a year and social security benefits of $1,182, for a total of $2,232 a year.

If an employee averaged $6,000 a year and was retiring after 35 years of service, he would draw a $1,750 a year state pension, plus $1,302 social security benefits for a total of $3,053 a year.

The proposed pension plan would provide for three different types of retirement.

1. Retirement with written consent of the employer at age 60 after 20 years of service.
2. Normal retirement at age 65, mandatory retirement at age 70.
3. Retirement due to disability after 15 years of service.

If an employee stopped working

Missionary Is Speaker At Kiwanis

An intimate description of Latin American countries and peoples was given by the Rev. John Sinclair, Presbyterian missionary, who spoke before Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel. He spent the last eight years at the missionary station of O Cum aie del Tuy, about two hours from Caracas, Venezuela.

The speaker told of his experiences in areas where there is a real demand for spiritual and moral leadership, and where there is great respect and trust for North Americans who prove they are trustworthy.

Rev. Sinclair and his family are now on furlough and will return to South America after Christmas to take up duties as missionary at the station near San Fernando, Chile.

The speaker was introduced by his brother-in-law, Russell Maag, program chairman.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Major Fred Hodgeman. During the luncheon members were entertained with carol singing by Smith-Cotton senior girls sextette of the choral group under direction of Mrs. Carl G. Schrader.

President Jack Shoemaker announced that next week the Optimist club will meet with the Kiwanians; and induction of new Kiwanian officers will occur at the Jan. 3 meeting.

Singing was led by the Rev. Arthur Schmitt with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist.

Guests were: Del Heckart with Russell Maag; Abe Silverman with Major Hodgeman.

Screen star Clark Gable's first job was as a timekeeper at the age of 15 in an Akron rubber factory.

For the state, he would receive back all his contributions plus interest. In case of the death of a state worker, his heirs would also receive the contributions plus interest.

NEW PLAN TO ELIMINATE FUNERAL BILLS

From years of experience, our firm knows the heavy financial burden often placed on bereaved families.

New Pre-Arrangement Plan Protects the Family

In order to relieve the family of funeral expenses at a time they can least afford them, we recommend a new plan that takes care of these costs before need arises.

This plan provides for a small sum to be paid at convenient intervals to an admitted legal reserve insurer. When need arises, funeral expenses are paid, regardless of how little has been paid. The plan is available to families and individuals from 1 to 80. Any mortuary in the United States or Canada may be designated.

Find out how little it costs to protect your family. Send coupon below for free information about this remarkable plan. No obligation.

TEN YEAR CLUB DINNER—Approximately 50 persons who have been with Town & Country for ten years or more were present at the annual Ten Year Club dinner held at the Pacific Cafe Dec. 20, including the founders, Mr. Lipscomb and Mr. Mathieson.

Mr. Lipscomb expressed pride that Town & Country was the type organization that people like to stay on with. He further pointed out that the ten-year people with their great experience and ability were the backbone of the company.

A sextette from Smith-Cotton sang on the program. Everyone spoke briefly on his experiences with Town & Country as they were introduced.

Appraisal Of Water Company

A significant paragraph in the appraisal report of the Sedalia Water Company made by Consoer, Townsend Associates, consulting engineers, Chicago, presented to City Council reads:

"...more than 90 per cent of the water works systems in the United States today are owned and operated by municipalities. Water works operation, unlike electric, gas and telephone utilities, is an operation which is entirely local in character and lends itself economically to public ownership."

A year ago the Water company indicated to council it proposed to ask for a 40 per cent increase in rates. Mayor Bagby appointed a Special Citizens Water Committee namely Herman Bloess, chairman, Attorney Frank Hayes, Ross Bothwell, William Howell and Jack Allgaier. The committee, and council approved procedures to obtain an appraisal by competent engineers.

Completed, the report is contained in two volumes. The first has data on 61 pages including six sheets of a letter of transmittal and summary; the second volume has 96 pages with comprehensive exhibits on lands, right-of-way and easements; details of transmission mains and valves, distribution system, valves and appurtenances; and map of the system.

This material is of considerable value to citizens of Sedalia as a guide in determining whether to call for a bond election to purchase the Water company.

Of pertinent interest for study in case Sedalia should decide to acquire the property are considerations concerning: 1. The physical valuation in terms of reproduction cost new at October 1956 price levels less accrued depreciation. 2. Book value. 3. Economic or earning power valuation based on the current operating revenues and costs of the Water Company.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Entertaining In Arctic Cold Business

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of his day-to-day log written on his Christmas trip to help bring holiday cheer to American troops in the Arctic. He took with him a group of Broadway entertainers.)

By DREW PEARSON

GOOSE BAY, Labrador. — Arrived at 8 p. m. and almost immediately began to wish I hadn't. Temperature was 20 degrees below zero, which is not bad because we were dressed for it. But inside a big hangar where we staged our first show it was 15 degrees above and seemed colder than outside. Men had been standing in the hangar for three hours waiting for us. (Our plane had been delayed in New York, got into Goose Bay three hours late.)

Somewhat the girls were able to look nonchalant parading across the stage with low-necked dresses. I nearly froze watching them. I had sneaked into a latrine long enough to put on some long underwear. I didn't tell anyone about this. It made me ashamed to watch Lisa Ferraday wearing an overcoat backstage. Our orchestra, the Jumping Jacks, were on the stage beside her wearing parkas. Ben Berge at the piano put on gloves between numbers. I ruled out the Arlene Dahl nightgowns for the Hartford models. But they did wear evening gowns — as if strolling down Park Avenue in June.

Finally the Air Force brought up a big gasoline heater used to warm up engines and started it backstage. It helped. You could come back occasionally and warm your hands. The audience, however, didn't sit on its hands. The GI's seemed to appreciate our coming that distance. I was a lousy master of ceremonies. Couldn't really blame it on the cold; Felt foolish introducing a lot of beautiful women. In the middle, Clara Cedrone, shivering in a flimsy dress, came up and said: "Why did you ever leave your nice farm in Maryland?"

Expensive Snow—

Later, I felt ashamed. I learned that Gen. Jim Knapp, commander at Goose Bay, had been considerably farther north, at Frohisher. He had been up dropping Christmas trees and presents on small isolated weather stations where the men can't get away until spring. One of his engines conked out. He finally got back just before we left. General Knapp is the kind of young officer who takes his job seriously, so seriously that he volunteered for an extra year of duty in the Arctic.

After freezing in the hangar, the cast had a beefsteak dinner and felt better. It snowed a bit outside — beautiful against the Canadian pines, but expensive. Col. William C. Armstrong, deputy commander, told me that it

Guest Editorial—

GREENVILLE (Miss.) DELTA DEMOCRAT-TIMES: Live and Learn. For several days the kindergarten pupil in our household had reported they had "macaroni cookies" during the morning repast. We let that pass with only one raised eyebrow, though we did diligently seek such cookies at the grocer the next time we were shopping. But when she reported later that she had drunk "mustache juice" along with her "macaroni cookies" we decided to investigate.

It was all quite logical, of course. The "macaroni cookies" were those light wafers with holes in the end. And the "mustache juice" was grape juice, which will leave a dark "mustache" on a small lip that drinks too fast. Education, we find, is a fascinating endeavor, even for parents who are getting it second hand.

These three methods of appraisal of the properties are shown in the summary as follows:

1. PHYSICAL VALUATION:

Lands, rights-of-way, Easements	$101,527.64
Structures	672,456.65
Major Equipment	83,786.19
Transmission Mains	430,355.75
Distribution System	1,531,031.30
General Equipment, Supplies, Etc.	90,134.11
Construction Work in Progress	168,001.52
Engineering, Financing, Interest during construction.	439,133.72

Total Physical Valuation 3,516,426.88

2. BOOK VALUE:

The Book Value as of December 31, 1955 was determined to be $2,197,874.18. This represents the acquisition cost of all the properties of the Company amounting to $2,671,935.58, less the reserve for depreciation amounting to $474,061.40.

3. ECONOMIC OR EARNING POWER VAL.

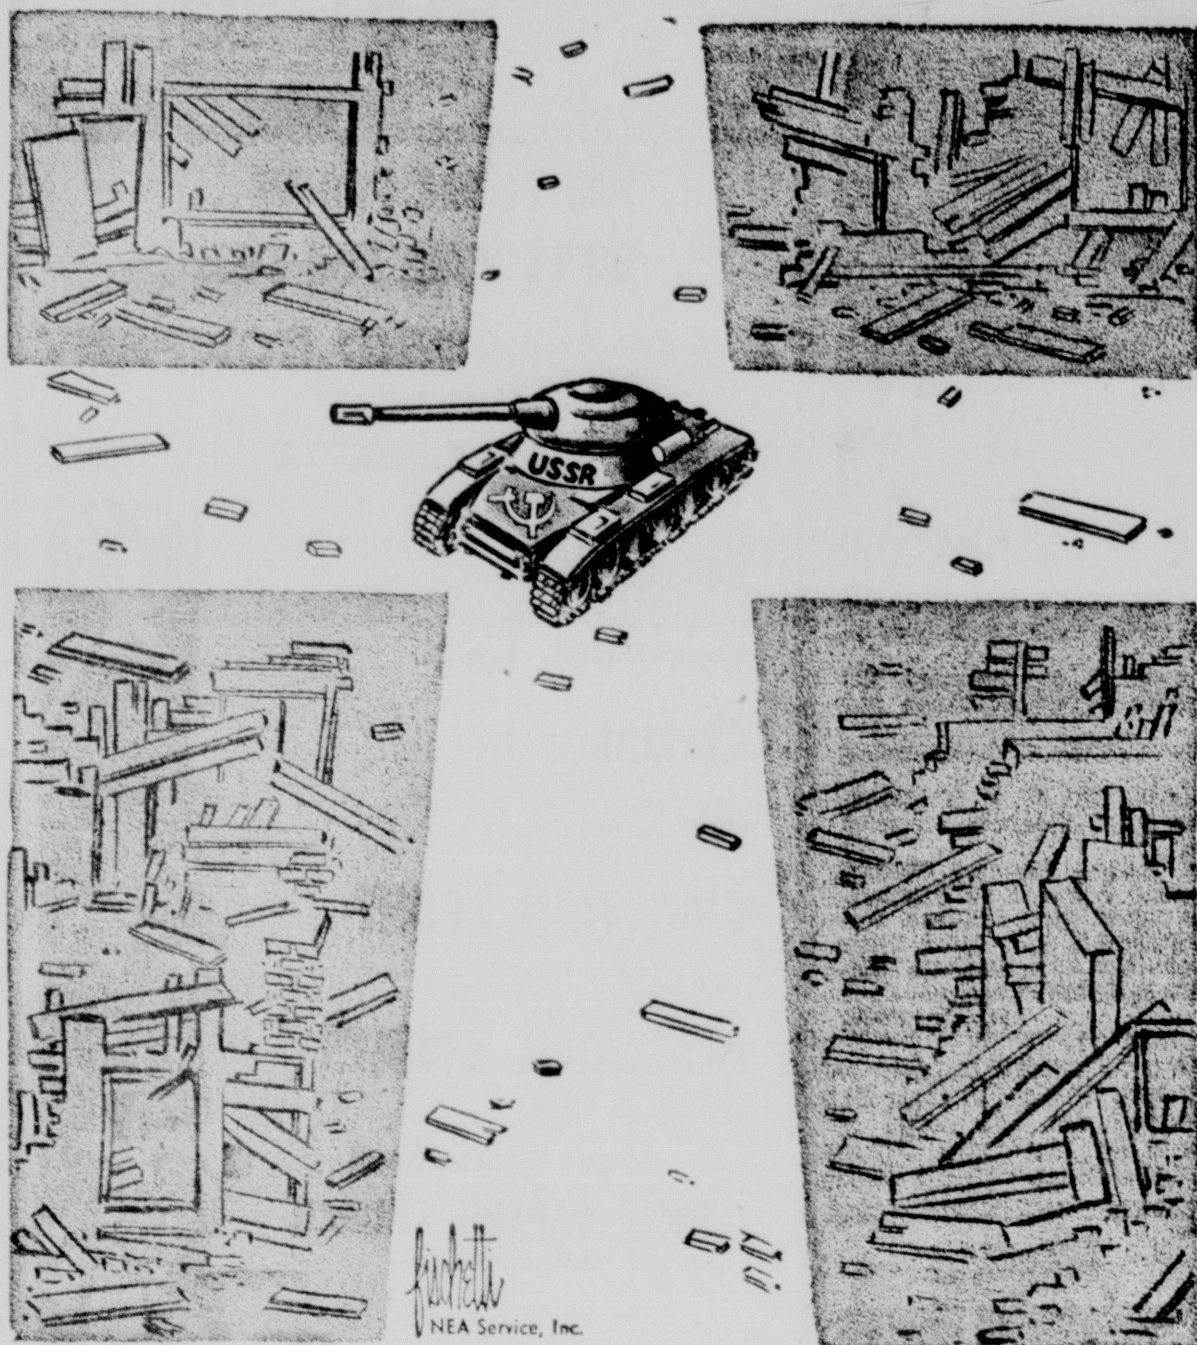

The Economic or Earning Power Valuation of the Water Company, based on operation of the Company during the calendar year 1955, is estimated to be $2,505,433.00

The average of the three methods of valuations studies results in a value of $2,739,911.30.

From the standpoint of basic fundamentals, the consulting engineers conclude that the purchase of the Water System by Sedalia for municipal operation would be economically feasible under present water rates if the acquisition can be made by issuance of 40-year Water Revenue Bonds of the City of Sedalia, bearing interest at the rate of 3.5 percent per annum, provided the over-all issue does not exceed $2,705,000, including the purchase price, bond service reserve, initial water system operating funds and funds to complete the current construction program.

With all the facts at hand there should be an early determination whether city council will call for a bond issue election. The matter should not be allowed to drag along indefinitely.

U. S. Chamber to Stimulate Interest In Key Issues

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Twelve market areas will be visited by a U. S. Chamber of Commerce flying team "to stimulate businessmen to be well-informed on 15 key legislative issues." The major cities are Los Angeles, Oakland, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Minneapolis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas, Atlanta, Pittsburgh, Hartford, and Detroit.

The five-man group of business evangelists, headed by the President of U. S. Chamber of Commerce, John S. Coleman, will preach a "conservative but dramatic" text to develop local leadership to push "the recommendations of business" in the new Congress.

The local chambers of 12 market areas have been given advance warning of the visiting Washington speakers, and asked to designate which issues are of most importance locally. The fifteen main topics are: Housing, minimum wage, agriculture, social security expansion, federal aid to education, insurance, foreign aid, right-to-work, secondary boycotts, atomic energy, federal versus private power, spending, taxes, postal rates and Hoover recommendations.

The moderator of the travelling panel, Arch M. Booth, at a luncheon with Washington correspondents of newspapers in the areas to be visited, didn't like the label "a grass roots businessmen's lobby" suggested by one reporter as the possible result of the flying

Firmly, it was denied that anyone in the White House had been advised of the tour. In fact, many of the recommendations run counter to the President's legislative proposals. Crossroads Comment

by G. H. S.

A former Sedalian was mentioned approvingly on the editorial page of the December issue of Columbia Magazine. We are indebted to one of our good readers, Miss Mary Helen Mayer, 240 S. Vermont, for alertness in calling it to our attention and filling in with some intimate background material.

The former Sedalian is the Rev. J. Kenneth Couhig, C.P.P.S., Air Force Chaplain, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Couhig and brother of William B. Couhig, of Mrs. A. K. Downs of Sedalia, and of Sister Mary Hope, a Benedictine Sister stationed in California. The latter will be visiting her relatives in Sedalia over the holidays.

The editorial commented on examples of "men of good will going about the business of making life a little better for their fellow men. As one of three outstanding examples of the promotion of religious good will the editorial cited the action of Chaplain Couhig: "The National Jewish Welfare Board in New York City disclosed that a Catholic Chaplain at a military post in Idaho recently made possible Rosh Hashanah (New Year) services for a group of Jewish servicemen stationed at Mountain Home Air Base. Chaplain James K. Couhig initiated plans for flying the Jewish airmen to San Francisco for their religious services."

This is, indeed, a brighter spot in the news by way of an antidote to despair in contrast to the over-abundant reports of invasion, war and massacre in our much distressed world, as reported by Columbia Magazine.

THE ANIMALS' CHRISTMAS

Ruth Millet—

Nagging, Deceitful Wives Are Failures in Marriage

You are failing your husband if—
You claim you can't make ends meet on his salary although he has a steady job. Cutting their living pattern to the size of her husband's pay check is a wife's responsibility.
You believe that the children should always come first and always put them and their demands ahead of your husband's needs and interests.

You rarely entertain in your own home because you think it is "too much trouble" even though you know that your husband would love to share his hospitality with others.
You make your husband feel old, or less successful than the husbands of your friends, or try to convince him that you always know what is best for the children.

You and the children gang up against your husband in little ways, like not telling him plans you think he might object to or not letting him know the real cost of the things you buy, or telling the children, "What your Dad doesn't know won't hurt him."

Recognize Financial Position
You encourage the children to think they have to have everything their friends have even though you know your family isn't well off financially as some of the families whose children your own are trying to keep in step with.

You aren't happy and you want your husband to know it and also to get the idea that it is mostly his fault.

You resent the time your husband devotes to his work and its demands upon him.

You don't figure it is your business to get up and cook your husband's breakfast before he leaves for work and to have a nourishing and appetizing dinner for him at night unless you happen to feel in the mood for cooking.

All of these are signs that a woman is failing her husband and failing herself as a woman, because she is mismanaging her most important job in life.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Common Cold Sores Come With Lowered Resistance

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A number of people, including N. E., have recently inquired about the annoying and common fever blister. Other names for this condition are cold sores and herpes simplex.

Almost all of us have had trouble with fever blisters from time to time, most commonly around the lips or nose. This must be classed as an ailment rather than a dangerous disease since rarely or never is this condition associated with serious complications or death.

A great many people have recurring trouble with herpes simplex. For example, one young lady I know gets cold sores on her lips practically every time she catches a cold, loses sleep or stays out in strong sun too long.

Most cold sores come rather suddenly and are associated with some infection or event which lowers resistance. They generally clear up without much difficulty. However, some are troubled by the herpes simplex which comes back again and again.

This is because the virus which causes the condition lies quietly within the cells but can at any time become active again if the resistance is lowered by such things as infection, fatigue or too much sun.

In particularly annoying cases X-ray treatments have to be considered. These will make most stubborn cold sores go away and also seems to make it less likely that another will come later in the same place.

Another treatment that sometimes helps is smallpox vaccination. Smallpox is another disease caused by viruses (though much more serious, of course) and perhaps there is some relationship between the viruses not yet understood.

The treatment of an ordinary cold sore is simple. During the blister stage a simple drying application, such as spirits of camphor, or calamine lotion is usually helpful. When the blister has broken and a crust has formed, a mild ointment, such as a heavy cold cream, may help to soften the crusts.

Giraffes have to stay on hard dry land. They bog down in rivers or swamps.

The Panda Bear

Christmas was close and in Santa's shop

The elves just didn't have time to stop, They had to work to get things done
So little children could have their fun; They put stuffed animals on some shelves
And told them to behave themselves While they went on to put the wheels
On all the shiny red automobiles. And dress the dolls and comb their curls
So they could be gifts to good little girls. But the panda bear, that was nice and white
Always kept trying to pick a fight
The stuffed giraffe stretched his neck up high.
And said: "Who wants to fight? — Not I!"
The elephant said: "Now listen — you know
That I can't fight — I'm just too slow,"
The little monkey kept climbing aroun'
Up on the top shelf and then back down,
"You can't catch me," he grinned at the bear
"When you reach for me I won't be there."

The cocker spaniel with long soft ears
Sat in the corner almost in tears.
The bulldog growled and showed his teeth.
The panda climbed down to the shelf beneath,
The tiger paced and his old tail switched
The monkey scratched the place he itched,
The bunny hopped and the kangaroo do
Gave a big leap like kangaroos do
And against the wall she hit her pouch.
Her baby inside peeped out and said: "Ouch!"
The kitten meowed and licked her paw.
And the laughing hyena went: "Haw, haw, haw,"
The little horse neighed and shook his head,
The woodchuck got up then went back to bed,
The bushy tailed squirrel scampered about
The skunk in her box wouldn't come out.
"Who wants to fight?" yelled the panda bear,
And the lion roared, "Keep still down there!"
The lamb went "Baa—" "cause he was afraid
Then suddenly there on the shelf there laid
The panda bear with the teddy bear's paws
And about that time here came Santa Claus,
He saw black spots where the panda was bruised
And thought the panda had been abused;
He looked at the panda's big black eye
And he asked all the other animals why.
They told old Santa right then and there
What really happened to the panda bear;
Santa shook his head, picked up the stuffed toys
Including the panda, for girls and boys,
And put them all in his great big sleigh.
Now you see how the panda got that way
Because of what happened that Christmas Eve night;
The panda bear is black and white
With a big black eye; but don't be concerned.
Right there on the shelf his lesson he learned
And from that very night you never will find
A nicer stuffed toy of any kind.
Hazel N. Lang.

The Grand Opening

BY WALT SCOTT

TOYS FOR TOTS — Well over 200 toys have been prepared for Santa Claus to distribute to needy children in the Sedalia Moose Club's "Operation Santa Claus". Members of the "Toys for Tots" committee are shown here wrapping and sorting a small part of the toys collected. From left to right they are Homer Crow, U. L. Howerton, "Buck" Bennett, Bill Miller, Walter McMullen, Lloyd Deuschle and Howard Webb. Santas helpers will deliver the toys on Sunday and Monday afternoons. During the weeks just preceding Christmas, the Moose Club has had collection places set up in various stores around town for people to deposit broken toys that could be mended or new toys. Public Library Notes—

Basic Pointers on Parties Can Be Obtained From Books

Most families will be giving at least one party during the coming holiday season. It may be just inviting a few friends in on one or two evenings, or it may be an elaborate affair for a large number of guests.

Basic pointers on giving parties

Mary, Martha Class Has Christmas Meet

The Mary and Martha Class of the First Baptist Church of Windsor held its quarterly business and social meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon with 14 members present.

The program was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. I. A. Barnes, opening with a carol. Prayer was given by Mrs. W. R. Woodridge before a short talk on the class motto, "Others," was given by Mrs. Ethel Stevens, class president. Mrs. R. E. Feaster gave an interesting lesson, "Let's Keep Christmas," by Peter Marshall.

The business meeting opened with prayer. After the usual reports and other items of business, the class decided to remember all shut-ins and absent members with Christmas cards, messages and visits. Mrs. R. E. Feaster and Mrs. J. W. Sample were appointed to help in selecting a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the illness of Mrs. L. M. Varner. The class project for the present is the purchasing of a new sink for the church kitchen. The business meeting closed with the singing of "Silent Night, Holy Night" by the group and prayer by Mrs. Lizzie Brown.

Delicious refreshments were served on tables beautifully decorated with candles and other Christmas ornaments by the members of Group I.

The next meeting will be March 13 at the church.

The nearest passenger rail service to Death Valley, Calif., is Las Vegas, Nev., (140 miles away). Planes and buses do the shuttle service.

California Lions Entertain Wives

The California Lions Club entertained their wives Tuesday night at the Methodist Church to a turkey dinner and a Christmas gift exchange. Mrs. B. F. Houser, who arranged the program which was a television broadcast over station YPTB introduced Mrs. Marvin H. Crawford who had recently appeared over the TV program the 64,000 Challenge in New York City who answered questions and told of her recent appearance on the New York program.

After the program Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Other helpful books include Carolyn Coggins' "Successful Entertaining At Home" and Marguerite Kohl's "The Hostesses' Manual". Ideas and suggestions for setting the table are covered in "Flowers and Table Settings", by Julia S. Berrall, "The Party Table", by Margaret Powers, "The Book of Table Arrangements, With Flowers, Fruits and Other Decorative Elements", by Patricia Easterbrook and Helen Sprackling's "Setting Your Table".

Food is a perennial party problem and cook books at the library will provide suggestions for menus. Especially helpful are such titles as "Entertaining Singlehanded; A Book of Easy Dinners", by Elinor Milnor Parker, "French Home Cooking", by Clare de Pratz, "A Book of Hors d'oeuvre", by Lucy Grace Allen, and "Good Housekeeping Cook Book", edited by Dorothy B. Marsh.

In addition to the above material, the library also has books on planning decorations, games, stunts and other entertainment for parties.

Hold Christmas Dinner

The Meet Your Neighbor Club annual Christmas dinner was held at the Hughesville cafeteria Dec. 14 with a turkey dinner served to 41 members and guests.

After the dinner, games were played with prizes going to J. L. Conaway and Kathryn Nicholson, high winners, and to C. S. Arnold and J. F. Weathers, low winners.

Mrs. M. T. Koevil was hostess Thursday to the Syracuse Homemakers Club with a dinner at noon.

The president, Mrs. Lewis Smith, called the meeting to order with the club singing two Christmas carols. Mrs. A. M. Smith read the Christmas story from the Bible.

Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Christmas Decoration," with some showing the decoration.

Mrs. L. A. Stahl, program leader, gave a review of the book, "Home for Christmas," by Lloyd C. Douglass.

During a short business session, Mrs. Kester Potter read the Christmas letter from Mrs. Zimmerman. Mrs. L. Smith read a letter from Miss Amy Kelley of Columbia who is now on a tour abroad. The members signed a Christmas card for her.

Members volunteered to be hostesses during the coming year for the club with the first meeting at the school, and the last with Mrs.

M. T. Koevil. It was voted to serve lunch for the all day meetings.

There were 17 members and three children present. The home was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. A small evergreen centered a table piled high with packages. Mrs. David Wittman and Mrs. Ray Burns played Santa Claus by distributing the packages which revealed the names of secret pals. Names were drawn for the 1957 pals. In conclusion, Mrs. Koevil was presented with the hostess gifts.

Gremlins Capture Loop Tilt

Whip Green Ridge Here Friday Night, 77-58, While Girls Lose in Volleyball

Sacred Heart pounded out a steady 77-58 PBCAA Conference win over Green Ridge Friday night in varsity basketball, but the Gremlins yielded to a 29-13 beating by the Green Ridge girls in volleyball.

The Gremlin eagles were strong from the start, sending the visitors backpeddling in the first period, 16-6, followed by a 21-11 attack in the second stanza. Green Ridge countered in the third frame, 24-18, but fell under the Gremlin wave again in the final quarter, 22-17.

Marvin Mettler stole the lead scoring role from his brother, Mark, by pouring in 28 points for the Grems. Don Ressel supplemented with 18 tallies while Mark Mettler dumped in 15. Bullard led Green Ridge with 22 and Durrill netted 13.

In the volleyball scoring, Alexander led Green Ridge's victors with nine points and Sacred Heart's Bahner netted five.

Sacred Heart will be idle until Jan. 9 when the Gremlins begin play in the Knob Noster invitational tournament.

Officials were Anderson and Reynolds.

LaMonte Five Oust Clinton In Cage Duel

LaMonte's Merchants and Clinton's National Guard closed in an exciting basketball scramble Friday night with the Merchants gaining the edge, 65-63, on a LaMonte court.

The two teams battled into the closing seconds of the game deadlocked until Finke of LaMonte made good a shot from the field for the winning margin.

L. Underwood of Clinton topped the scoring for the evening with a 26-point tally, followed closely by Carls who netted 25. The victors' attack was led by Files with 13 while Finke accounted for 13.

LaMonte will host an independent Leeton team in a game Jan. 3.

Howard Finke has asked that any independent team seeking games with LaMonte please contact him there.

Hubbard Tops S-C 'B' Team Saturday Nite

The Smith-Cotton "B" Tigers failed in their bid for Consolation honors in the Stover High School Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday night when Hubbard High School took the big end of the tally, 40-33.

Hubbard trailed at the end of the first quarter by one point 8-9, then the second quarter saw them pull into a tie on 10-9 scoring. The halftime ended 18-18. In the third stanza, Hubbard led the scoring 26-6 and closed 10-9 in the fourth to gain a seven-point margin.

Q. Jones and Simons led the scoring for Hubbard, Jones with six goals for 12 points and Simons with three goals and five free throws for 11 tally. Garrison was tops for the S-C Junior Tigers with five goals and four free throws for a total 14 markers, with Brown contributing three goals and two free tosses for eight points.

Voodoo Is Cause For Divorce Action
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Voodoo riffs helped break up the marriage of the onetime "Singing Sweethearts of Radio," according to Mrs. Victoria M. Kelvin, 32.

She has charged cruelty in her divorce action against John Kelvin, 50, and said that he stuck pins in dolls named after her relatives. She said he tried to induce their daughter Kathleen, now 6, to believe in voodoo by teaching her to stick pins in the dolls.

Wed in 1944, the couple separated in 1953. Kelvin gave up music and became an attorney in New York City.

He is contesting the divorce.

Tie in Aluminum Bowl
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Montana State and St. Joseph's of Collegeville, Ind., slipped and slid to a scoreless tie here today in the first annual Aluminum Bowl football match, played in mud.

Patterson, Mantle, Larsen Liked for Pro Award
NEW YORK (AP)—The top professional athlete of the year probably will come from among new heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, home run champion Mickey Mantle, perfect game pitcher Don Larsen and Masters and PGA golf champion Jack Burke, says Murry Goodman who annually polls sports writers.

Others in the running include jockey Eddie Arcaro, pitchers Don Newcombe and Sal Maglie and Pittsburgh first baseman Dale Long who set a record by hitting eight home runs in as many games.

The winner will receive the $10,000 pro athlete of the year diamond-studded belt. Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns beat out pitcher Johnny Podres for the award last winter and then retired from football.

All in One Family
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—When Wyoming Center and Park Lee High schools meet on the football field, there's a sharp set of parental eyes on end Gordon Sabin of Wyoming center.

His father, Harold Sabin, is a teacher at the school.

Kirk Wilson set new NCAA, Pacific Coast Conference and UCLA punting records during 1956. A sophomore, he averaged 49.3 yards on 30 kicks.

Smithton Wins League Game At Hughesville

Smithton High scored a double victory at Hughesville in PBCAA Conference play Friday night climaxed by a 66-42 conquest in the varsity tilt. Smithton's "B"s carved a 48-38 win in the evening opener.

The big margin rolled up by the Smithton varsity was due to a complete collapse of Hughesville in the second period. Smithton pulled ahead slowly in the first quarter, 17-16, but held the opposition almost motionless in the second frame with a 23-1 barrage.

Hughesville managed to hold its own in the final two quarters, 11-14 and 14-12, but the damage had already been done by the Smithtonites.

J. Monsees pumped in 18 points to lead the winners, followed by P. Monsees with 13. Payne topped Hughesville with 15.

Hughesville saved face in the girls' volleyball meeting by downing the Smithton girls by a 33-20 tally.

Sevier and Martin were the officials.

Ex-Golden Gloves Ring Vet Reports To Whiteman AB
Whiteman Air Force Base's Boxing team gained a former Golden Gloves veteran this week when Basic Airman James Burks reported to the 340th Air Police Squadron.

Burks, 19, was the 1955-56 Light Heavyweight champion at Frances E. Warren Air Force Base at Cheyenne, Wyoming, having amassed a record of 32 wins out of 36 bouts in both civilian and military rings.

In 1954, Burks was runner-up in the Cleveland, Ohio, Middleweight Golden Gloves Championships and is expected to greatly improve Whiteman's chances in tournament circles this season.

2 Planes Down With 51 Aboard

MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 22 (AP)—A twin-engine passenger plane of the state-operated Yugoslav Airlines crashed near Munich tonight in a blinding snowstorm.
Police said at least three persons were killed, and 30 others were injured, some seriously.
The plane was en route from Belgrade to Paris with a regular stop-over scheduled at Munich's International Airport.

ROME, Dec. 22 (AP)—An Italian airliner with 21 persons aboard vanished tonight and presumably crashed in the snow-covered mountains of northern Italy.
"Officially it is missing but we have no more hope," said a spokesman for Italian Airlines—LAI.

U.N. CHAMER—Adding Oriental grace and beauty to the United Nations scene in New York is Reiko Kase, daughter of Japan's U.N. Ambassador Toshikazu Kase. She wore this handsome silk brocade costume for the ceremonies admitting her country as the 80th U.N. member.

Kansas City Woman Dies in Car Mishap

CREIGHTON, Mo., Dec. 22 (AP)—Mrs. John J. King, 41, of 737 Washington boulevard, Kansas City, was killed and her husband suffered minor injuries in an accident near here today.
Their car overturned on a curve of Highway 35 and both were thrown out. The husband was treated at the Harrisonville hospital.

Warrensburg Official Dies During Checkup

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Dec. 22 (AP)—Russell Garnett, 78, Warrensburg city attorney, died today in his home while being examined by a physician.
He had been a member of the Johnson County draft board since 1941. He served as city police judge 1952-55 and was elected city attorney in the last election to fill an unexpired term.
He was a brother of E. B. Garnett, Sunday editor of the Kansas City Star.

Will Ask Tax Relief For Small Business

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today he will demand tax relief for small business in the next session of Congress.
Fulbright said the Eisenhower administration had spoken of easing the tax load on small corporations during the election campaign but "now that the election is over we hear the same old tune—the administration cannot recommend tax relief at this time."
He predicted the administration will recommend extension of the present corporation tax rates—30 per cent normal tax on all corporate earnings, plus a 22 per cent surtax on earnings above $25,000.
The rates automatically will drop to a 25 per cent normal tax plus 22 per cent surtax on April 1, unless Congress before then acts to extend the present rates or substitute some new ones.

Nixon Thinks Airlift Must Be Extended

MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 22 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said tonight "there are enough Hungarian refugees in the pipeline to extend the airlift to Jan. 10."

The airlift, which began Dec. 11, was originally scheduled to transport 9,700 Hungarian refugees to new homes in America by Dec. 30. Conducted by the U. S. Air Force, Operations Safe Haven has been slowed by bad flying weather and is running several days behind schedule.

Nixon arrived in Munich by train today from Austria to continue his on-the-spot survey of the Hungarian refugee problem in Austria and Germany.

Speaking at a news conference, he said "Some of my views concerning the refugees' problems have been changed."
"I did not realize the many economic problems involved and the highly technical quality of the refugees and the potentiality of their productivity."
He said that when he got back to the United States he would "go to bat" for the young people and students among the refugees.
"A lot has been done," Nixon said, "but a lot more remains to be done."

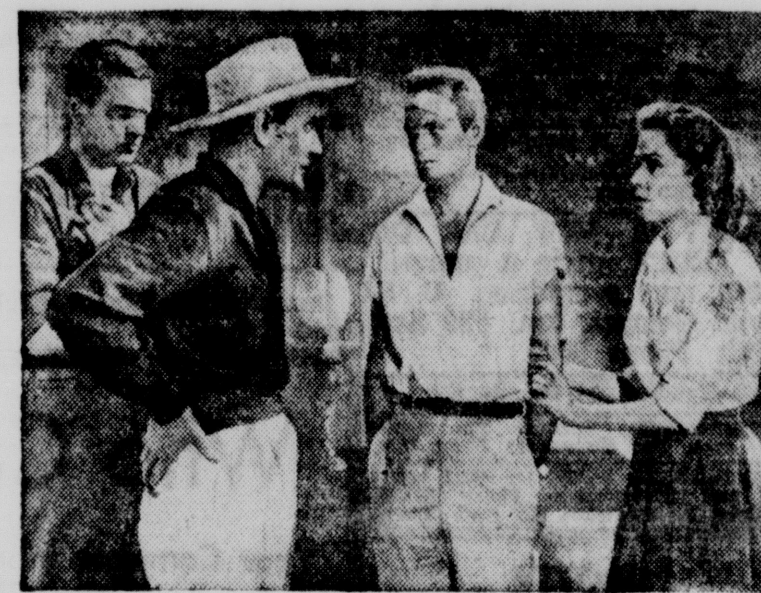

He said he wanted to get all the facts before reporting to President Eisenhower. He heads for home early tomorrow, with a six-hour stopover en route in Iceland, which only recently changed its mind about kicking out American NATO forces stationed there. He said the stopover was his own idea.
"We do not want the Icelanders to take our friendship for granted," he said.
Earlier, at Munich's airport, Nixon, standing bareheaded in the snow, shook hands and wished Godspeed to 56 Hungarian refugees.

Shriners Hold Yule Dinner, Program

The Sedalia Shrine Club held a delightful Christmas party Wednesday night at the Smith-Cotton
High School at which time a turkey dinner was served to 200
nobles, their wives and guests.
Tables were centered with arrangements of red roses and white chrysanthemums. Three large white lighted Christmas trees and a huge snowman added to the festive decorations. A candy cane with ribbon and Christmas cards was at each plate.

Invocation was by Charles Farley and Don McQueen, president, presided over the meeting and introduced the officers of the Shrine Club and their wives, Harold Coffelt, vice-president and Mrs. Coffelt; Floyd Knerl, secretary and Mrs. Knerl and Tom Aulgur, treasurer and Mrs. Aul-gur.

McQueen then introduced Ray
Williams, responsible for the arrangements, decoration and the program.

The first of the program was presented by the talented young singer, Ken Williams, who sang:
"Silver Bells", "Some Enchanted
Evening" and "Santo Natale" with Marilyn Goldman as accompanied.

The second part of the program was presented by the Peggie Hewitt Homan Dance School and was entitled "A Preview of Santa's Dolls."

Outstanding numbers were the "Pantomaniac" cleverly done by
Nancy Homan and Warren
Cheatham and the acrobatic number that fascinated the audience,
by the two little Reed sisters,
Linda and Carol. A small blond girl, too, Sharon Cole, was called back to take a bow, when she danced to "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

Santa's little helpers won the hearts of the audience and there were many entertaining features which included baton twirling, tap dancing, ballet, singing and even a cowboy who dropped his gun
during a tap dance but didn't stop dancing. He picked it up afterwards.

The following appeared on the program: Ginger Booth, Elva Jay
Burke, Kay Burk, Sharon Cole,
Ginger Kay Cusick, Dawn Daniels, Debbie Dawson, Laura Lee
Dirck, Peggy and Kathy Fischer,
Catherine Freeze, Jameila Hall,
Mary Jane Herrick, Aaron Lee,

FCC Authorizes Firm To Purchase Stations From Capper Estate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today authorized Stauffer Publications Inc., Topeka, to acquire Topeka broadcasting stations WIBW-AM-TV and Kansas City, Kan., radio station KCKN, from the estate of the late Sen. Arthur Capper for $2,498,675.

The commission also authorized the Stauffer Co. to transfer KCKN to Cy Blumenthal, who operates stations WGSN, Norfolk, Va., and WRL-AM-FM, Arlington, Va., for $110,000.

The transactions were approved in connection with the absorption by Stauffer Publications, which publishes the Topeka State Journal and 11 other daily newspapers, of Capper Publications, Inc. The latter concern publishes the Topeka Daily Capital and the Kansas City (Kas) Kansan.

The combination, announced in September, brings together two of the largest publishing firms in the Midwest.

In addition to its daily newspapers, Capper publishes two magazines, five farm papers and Capper's Weekly.

Stauffer, in addition to its newspapers, owns broadcasting stations
KGFF, Shawnee, Okla., KSEK
Pittsburg, Kan., and KSOK, Arkansas City, Kan.

Blind World War Vet Gets Permanent Job In Federal Office

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bill Hasse, a 36-year-old World War II veteran, is waiting for this Christmas with all the expectancy of his four young children.

Hasse, since June 25, has been employed by the Veterans Administration on a temporary basis.
Christmas day his status will be changed to that of a permanent employee. An easy accomplishment for most people, but not for Hasse.
Blinded by a booby trap in 1944,
Hasse left the Army to study law at the University of Illinois. He memorized his textbooks. After graduation he opened a private law practice. His wife acted as his secretary.

But things didn't move along quickly enough. He applied for a job with the VA and was rejected.
Then he asked for only a chance—
temporary status—and he got it.

Since then he has set up a system that enables him to interview about 15 veterans a day, fill out forms and questionnaires for them, handle about 40 telephone calls,
keep notes on a braille typewriter
and has braille tabs on his filing system. He also devised a series of templates to fit just about every form the VA has.

visit with their son, Dr. and Mrs.
B. B. Baker and family.

Jimmy Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hansen, celebrated his ninth birthday with a party for a group of boys. They were, Stevie
Dunham, Mike Dunham, Allen
Castle, Terry Edwards, Billy Joe
Meyer, Harvey Meyer, Ronnie
Landreck, and the honoree, Allen
Castle and Jimmy entertained with piano solos. Games were played and refreshments served.
Many nice gifts were received.

Miami Votes Curfew

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Miami
City Commission, attempting to erect a deterrent to juvenile delinquency, has voted a midnight curfew on children under 17. The commission also called for a study aimed at a county-wide curfew and voted to request the state legislature to increase the minimum driver age to 18.

Top Targets Are Speeders And Drunks

CHICAGO (AP)—Strength and surprise are the key elements in the defense against death on the highways during the holiday season.
The top targets are speeders
and drunks.

Those points were brought out
today in an Associated Press survey of plans in many states to curb motor vehicle accidents during the Christmas and New Year periods.

Last year 609 traffic deaths were recorded during the three-day celebration of Christmas, a record for any holiday. The New Year observance added 364.

Christmas and New Year's Day were on Sunday last year, and the festive weekend included Saturday and Monday.

Each is on Tuesday this time,
and the long holiday period includes the preceding weekend plus the intervening Monday.

More cars, more people and more hours of exposure to danger in the four-day holiday periods ahead call for more effort. In some states the extra effort is taking the form of added police strength.

Reinforcements are being called up in Tennessee, Maine and Texas.

Tennessee's regular 309-man
highway patrol will be augmented by 60 troopers normally assigned to the driver's license and safety education divisions.

All troopers who can be spared from other duties will be assigned to highway patrol duty in Maine.

The regular highway patrol in Texas will be increased by extra officers from the motor vehicle
licensing and weights divisions.
That will add about 120 men to the usual force of 500.

Every available officer will be working a 10-hour day on highway patrol in Washington state. They will be aided by scout planes of the National Guard and the State Game Department.

All leaves for troopers will be canceled in Vermont.
Patrolmen and radar units will be concentrated in certain areas in Mississippi without advance warning—a surprise tactic that has slashed the state's death rate
since it was adopted Oct. 1.

Roadblocks will be set up at un-

Better Coax Lady Luck's Personal Help

CHICAGO, Dec. 23 (AP)—Like to play it safe? Then coax Lady Luck to stay in your corner.

The National Safety Council's roundup of freak accidents in 1956 shows it's not always what happens to you that counts, but how you come out of it.

Take Mrs. Loretta Lewis of Charlotte, N.C. Her car veered off a highway, hurdled down a 50-foot embankment and landed on railroad tracks—in front of an approaching train. The roaring locomotive sideswiped the wreckage and barreled on. Mrs. Lewis lived through this double jeopardy. In fact, she suffered only a broken arm and a few bruises.

Another lucky one, considering the circumstances, was Mrs. Pauline Ellison. Her auto crashed into a truck on an icy highway near Richmond, Ind., and she was thrown from the car. But she landed on her briefcase and skidded cozily and in security for 200 feet.

Eugene Cromwell of Milwaukee might have prematurely considered himself among the lucky. His car swerved off the highway and got bashed up, but he didn't suffer a scratch. But when he stepped out to survey the damage, he fell into a 50-foot limestone quarry and broke his arm.

And who would see a danger signal in the simple act of sawing off a tree limb. Benjamin Morris of Kansas City got up from bed and did it in the middle of the night. The limb, scratching against his house in the wind, annoyed him. A few minutes later Morris was back in bed again—in a hospital. He was on the wrong end of the limb when he did the sawing.

Mrs. Mary Hastings Bradley, author and big game hunter, came through six African safaris without a scratch. But she tripped over a lion's head in the trophy room of her Chicago home and broke an arm.

Lady Luck, in dishing out her dirtiest digs, sometimes was thoughtful and considerate. Like in the case of Earle Heffley of Chicago. He cut himself while opening a Christmas package he received in the mails. The package contained a first aid kit.

Not so, however, with farmer Paul Thomas of Las Vegas, Nev. He was unlucky enough to come to grips with a wise but cantankerous gopher. When Thomas shoved a lighted concussion bomb down into the gopher's hole, the gopher shoved it right back at him. Thomas gave it a frantic heave. It exploded near his big barn and burned 12 tons of hay.

Roger Cole of Alpena, Mich., didn't give much thought to the capricious capers of Lady Luck. He merely wishes that people who drive houses would look where they're going. His car was parked on the shoulder of U.S. 23 when a house moving crew approached. The side of the house clipped his car.

Old Movie Code Stands Well 25 Years

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — The film production code, which got its first major overhaul last week, has been sniped at and undermined since its start 26 years ago. Yet it has managed to survive and serve the industry well.

The code was originated for self-protection. In 1929, the films had found a voice. Forced to abandon pantomime, the producers went to the stage to find film subjects. They filmed plays that had been originated for sophisticated theater audiences.

Racy dialogue, daring plots and nudity aroused the nation's moralists, who were already suspicious of Hollywood because of the news scandals of the '20s.

A plan arose to have the film industry censor itself. This was furthered by producers' boss Will Hays, who knew the dangers of having censor boards in every state, county and town as well as pressure from religious, veteran and other groups. He reasoned it would be better to ward off such chaotic interference by having self-regulation.

And so the first motion picture production code was adopted by all the major film companies in March 1930. It covered everything from the Bronx cheer (forbidden) to use of the flag (respectful).

Like the U. S. Constitution, the code has seen amendment. When gangster and G-men films got out of hand in the late '30s, new rules were added about crime in movies. Other additions permitted nudity amid foreign natives and placed bans on cruelty to animals.

For 15 or 20 years, the code withstood its attackers. Producers who tried to skirt the code found rough going. They couldn't get playing time in the big theater chains, which were owned by the major studios.

The situation changed when the government made the theaters and studios divorce for antitrust reasons. The studios were still committed to the code, but the theaters weren't necessarily.

Thus pictures like "The outlaw," "The Moon Is Blue," "The Man With the Golden Arm" and "I Am a Camera" could get good playing time even though they were refused a code seal.

Last week's revisions loosened many of the restrictions on subject matter while tightening others on brutality and passion. The code office, ably administered first by Joseph Breen and now by Geoffrey Shurlock, is profoundly aware of public pressure on film content.

When the brutality of films like "Blackboard Jungle" and "Crime in the Streets" was attacked here and abroad, the industry censors advised producers to slow down on such subjects.

Producers submit scripts to the code before shooting. If the censors have objections, they not only voice them but try to offer solutions.

The Shurlock office also reviews all finished films, stills and advertising copy. Nothing escapes its eyes. Well, almost nothing.

Returns Lost Billfold

Things looked gloomy for a short time today for Noah Phillips, 1201 South Ingram, when he reported to the police the loss of his billfold containing $114. But it was not for long, things became bright a short time later when W. G. Parsons, 1404 South Montebello, reported finding the billfold containing all his money.

Phillips reported the loss somewhere between the Third National Bank and Fifth and Ohio. He was extremely happy over the finding of the billfold, especially by someone who was honest.

The worst automobile accident toll in history was marked up in the United States in 1955 with 37,800 traffic deaths.

"... Unto Us a Child Is Born."

John the Baptist -- Preparing the Way

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a series of eight studies of the birth and times of Christ. It concerns John the Baptist, a man seething with tidings of the coming of the Lord.

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Newsfeatures

Out of the desert he came. Out of the brooding rocks and sand. Out of the flaming sun he came striding with long strides, his eyes on fire and his shaggy mane a banner in the wind.

"Make ye ready the way of the Lord!"

From the wilderness west of the Dead Sea, John the Baptist came down to the Jordan's banks, wrapped in camel's pelt tied with leathern thongs, bearing the secrets of long silence and the stars.

"There cometh after me," he proclaimed, "He that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose sandals I am not worthy to unloose. I baptize you with water but He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost."

Some heard. Some closed their ears in scorn. They came and stood there, the tax-gouging publicans, the Roman soldiers, the wayward Herodian youths with their Greek manners, woven peploises and broad-brimmed hats.

"Repent!" he pleaded. Lay bare your own infirmities, and thus be whole. Open your eyes to man's frailty, and find strength. Face the weakness of the heart, and be made new and girded with truth.

"For He cometh in Whom all flesh shall know the salvation of God."

There on the river bank, this coarsely garbed desert prophet, dark of skin and lean from years of living on locusts and wild honey, first raised the standard for his younger cousin, Jesus.

From his solitary haunts, the Baptist came forth with passion and lancing words, with no awe for rank or station, roaring against the proud, the cheats, the selfish rich, the doers of violence.

It was a remote cry, on the edge of a clangorous world, of muddled converging civilizations, of hodgepodge doctrines and beliefs, rent with discordant teachings and collapsing ideals.

Surely, unless men ceased from their cruelties and vain-glories, they would be crushed by the inner weight of evil. But the Baptist saw succor and restoration in the One to come. Greatness was required.

Against it all, the Baptist rebelled, grieving at the millions in slavery, victims of war or debt, toiling in copper mines, ditches and households — about three to every citizen. Some wore iron balls.

The pagan tides of Greece, decadent for 300 years or more since Aristotle and the Odes of Pindar, invaded all the lands around, extolling the body and denying its kinship to the soul.

Polygamy abounded in Judea and other lands. Men divorced their wives at will. Young girls, like Greeks, with marjoram on their hair and alkanet stain on their lips, danced nude in coastal cities.

In arenas near Jerusalem, animals screamed in massive slaughter to entertain the multitudes, and Herod kings made sports of swords and battleaxes.

Princes and priests exacted their heavy tribute—a third of a farmer's grain, crown taxes, temple taxes, stores and cattle seized for war, levies for first fruits, gratitude and guilt, tithes and second tithes and many sacrifices.

At the temple, the noise of jostling crowds mingled with bawling cattle in their pens or on the slabs, the stench of smoke and burning fat, the cries of hawkers and money-changers.

Amid the rankling forces, Judaism, the olden beacon of the one

JOHN THE BAPTIST—A personality study by Guy Rowe.

God, was split into contending forces, floundering to preserve faith. The Baptist quit the din and clutter—left his priestly home behind.

He spurned the puffed-up Pharisees, their precise, formal fixing of the law. With their artful scribes, they had gained ascendancy over the Sadducees, those wealthy allies of Rome who denied man's resurrection.

The legalistic Pharisees elaborated law until it was a hollow shell, naming 39 deeds as Sabbath work, declaring a man must carry no burden on that day heavier than a fig. They used the lash and stonings.

In the uplands, Samaritans accepted Hebrew law, but not the prophets. The Nazarenes, dwelling east of the Jordan, rejected temple rites as binding. Fierce Zealots carried daggers and swore death to all disloyal Jews.

To the same realm of solitude as the Baptist went the Essenes—the bathers, who kept their scrolls of scripture, hymn books and manuals of strict discipline in caves beside the Dead Sea. They numbered about 4,000. They too, spoke of a wondrous "Teacher of Righteousness."

So it was that the Baptist, born about six months before Jesus of an elderly priest, Zacharias, and

Part VII Saddle Club Meets

The Ionia Saddle Club had a polluck supper and gift exchange at the Community Hall on Thursday evening. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Louis Bormann; vice-president, Mrs. Emmett Boltz; secretary, Mrs. Roy Neil; treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Gardner; drill master, Roy Neil; assistant drill master, Elmer Gardner; and the trustees, Walter Peters and Jack Monroe.

Elizabeth, a cousin of Mary's, left his doting parents early in life for the desert.

There in that place of sun and sand and silences, with the cadences of eternity in the wind and the stars caressing the very hills at night, he found his swift, straight voice.

When the time came, he stormed down from his fastness, a blazing harbinger of the new Kingdom.

The Baptist left his mark on many, for 20 years later, followers spoke of him in far-off Ephesus. But Herod Antipas, whom the Baptist dared to assail for an adulterous marriage, had him locked up in Machaerus fortress as an incendiary, and beheaded.

But the voice in the wilderness, that lonely cry on the border of a raucous, reeling world, had lit a new lamp, and lifted the veil on a light that leaped around the earth.

Mrs. James McLarney

Sandra Ryan, James McLarney Pledge Vows at Sacred Heart

The marriage of Miss Sandra Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ryan, Route 5, and Lieut. James H. McLarney, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLarney, Gower, was solemnized at 12:30 o'clock Saturday, December 15, at Sacred Heart Church with the Rev. Father Brunswick performing the ceremony before a background of Christmas evergreens and palms with large bouquets of white gladioli, carnations and snapdragons.

Al Domingue sang "Mother Kneeling at Thy Feet" and "Ave Maria," during the ceremony. Mrs. E. F. Paxton played a selection of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of candlelight satin with a sweeping cathedral train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long sleeves and a low V neckline, below a yoke of illusion. Wide scalloped bands of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed the bodice, following the outline of the neck and joining at the center front to form a lace plastron. The great fullness of the skirt was gathered at the sides and back of an elongated waistline, which dipped low across the back to form a bustle effect. A band of Alencon lace was laid under an inverted pleat at each side of the panel front and descended to the hem. The bride's headdress, designed to complement her gown, was a small half hat of satin edged with lace, holding a long veil of candlelight illusion. She carried a cascade of Amazon lilies, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marjory Cummins was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Susie Jones, Marshall, and Miss Carolyn Ryan, sister of the bride. They wore off-white velvet gowns with very full skirts gathered onto the long torso bodices which were designed with scoop necklines and long fitted sleeves. They each wore a small velvet hat with net trim and carried cascades of red poinsettias and holly.

Garland Lindsey, Urbana, served as best man. Groomsman were Patrick McLarney and Gerald McLarney, brothers of the bridegroom. John O'Day and William McLarney, cousins of the bridegroom, ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a silk faille dress in mink color with aquamarine hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. McLarney, mother of the bridegroom, wore a steel blue silk dress with matching hat and shoes and white accessories. Her flowers were cypripedium orchids.

A reception was held at the Sedalia Country Club after the ceremony, given by the bride's parents. The serving tables were beautifully laid with white net and satin cloths and were decorated with poinsettias, garlands of smilax and white tapers. Miss Rosalie Ziercher, St. Louis, Miss Jill Strentzsch, Columbia, and Mrs. Robert Fischer, St. Louis, served. Mrs. Arthur Jenkins and Mrs. Bob Merritt presided at the guest book.

The couple left for a month's wedding trip through the south before going on to Okinawa where the bridegroom will be stationed. For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue jersey sheath dress with jewel trim, a blue satin and felt hat and brown lizard accessories.

Out of town guests at the wedding included, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Harris, of Groom, Tex.; Mrs. Howard Gore, Pueblo, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Raouls, Picher, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Logan, Webster Groves; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLarney, Mary Jo, Rose, Gerald, Pat and Danny, Gower; Mr. and Mrs. William McLarney and Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Day, Hemple; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ziercher and daughter, St. Louis; Miss Eleanor Jones, Nancy Dean, Bette Havranek, Aileen Davison, Loretta Burton and Phyllis Tiemann, Kansas City; Pat Cross, Judy Garnett, Bob Felling, Gary Smith and Nat

Mr. and Mrs. Cue E. Potter, Route 5, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Verna Jean, to William R. Birdsong, son of Mrs. Nora J. Birdsong, 1810 South Harrison, and the late Alfred Birdsong. The wedding is to be December 30. (Cofe photo)

Now is the time to use your imagination in wrapping the gifts you have purchased.

That shirt for dad the knows he will get one! wrap it in red paper with shirt buttons glued down the front, a white collar at top of package and a real bow tie to finish it off.

A subscription to a newspaper would be a more glamorous gift if you cut a Santa Claus out of newspaper, paste on white cardboard, top with red cap and write on back of Santa announcing the gift.

Merry Christmas to all!

Patricia Savage Becomes Bride Of Lona Malone

Miss Patricia Joan Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Savage, 707 West Jefferson, and A-2c Lona E. Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Malone, Lincoln, Nebraska, were united in marriage at Whiteman Air Force Base Chapel Sunday, Dec. 16, with Major Addington, performing the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and white candelabra.

Miss Betty Lou Kelly played the traditional wedding march. She accompanied Claude North who sang "I Love You Truly," and J. D. Sherman, who sang, "True Love." The tapers were lighted by A-2c Ransdall Sirk.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over taffeta, styled with snug bodice, enhanced with a swirl of pleated nylon at the top, and a full skirt with tiers of lace. A small cap held her shoulder length net veil. She wore long white gloves, a three-strand pearl necklace, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and white Bible.

Miss Judy McDowell, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a waltz length gown of yellow net over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Loren Lee Davidson, Palmyra, Neb., friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were A-2c Donald Risner and A-2c Ransdall Sirk.

The mother of the bride wore a black and white taffeta dress with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua blue dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at Lovett's Cafe for 60 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed on a table covered with lace cloth. White candles were placed on either side. Miss Loretta Huffman, Sedalia, Miss Valda DeFreece, Burr, Neb., and Mrs. Ann Nor-

Just one more day until the much awaited Christmas Day. I know most of us will be very busy until the last minute. Some working, others preparing food and catching up on last minute details, but do take a few hours out for personal grooming. Regardless of where you are going, or whether you will have company or not—it is nice to look your best on that day. Give yourself a quick facial, take a long luxurious bath to relax, do your hair and nails. Get out your most becoming outfit (appropriate for the occasion, of course) and dress carefully adding just the right jewelry and your favorite cologne, PLUS your very best disposition. Make it a holiday you and your family will long remember. Now make this note: if you have gifts to exchange plan to do it as soon after Christmas as possible. The selection is better and although the stores expect exchanges, they prefer to do it as soon as possible.

MOP Clubs Hold Christmas Party, Program Jointly

The Missouri Pacific Women's Club and the Missouri Pacific Shops Booster Club held their Christmas party at the Little Theatre Monday evening, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. J. T. White, president of the Missouri Pacific Women's Club introduced Mrs. W. H. Schutt, program chairman, who presented the following program.

Invocation was given by Mrs. O. C. Blankenship after which the Blue Notes orchestra composed of Tom Boehm, Bill Booth, Clifford Robinson, Leland Payton and Kristian Kolberg played several numbers, "Behind the Green Door," "Winter Wonderland," "Little Brown Jug" and "White Christmas."

The boys' choir from Horace Mann School, of which Miss Mary Jo Case is director, sang, "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," "Joy to the World" and "Jingle Bells."

A piano solo, "Gesu Bambino" by Edwin Danforth was followed by group singing of "Silent Night" with Mrs. A. R. Beach as leader. Carolyn Nave, violinist, played "Sleigh Ride" and "Gesu Bambino" with her sister, Donna Nave as accompanist, after which Ken Williams sang "Silver Bells," "Gentle Persuasion" and "Santo Natali" with Mrs. A. R. Beach as accompanist.

Wayne and Willard Woolery played two selections on the piano, "Jolly Jingle Bells" and "My Mama's Waltz" and Edwin Danforth and Charles Blethroe in piano and bones duet played "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Down Yonder" and "Jingle Bells." As they were playing "Jingle Bells" Santa arrived with toys, candy, apples and popcorn balls for the children.

A long table was attractively decorated with a white cloth sprinkled with sprigs of holly and centered with a beautiful planter filled with gold pods, holly and Christmas ornaments with two large red candles in green holders surrounded by fir boughs. There were several trays of decorated cookies in shapes of stars, bells and Santas.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mrs. J. G. Ellis and Mrs. J. T. White.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haik, Springfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Fay, to Nicholas Philip Meyer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Meyer, 516 West Third. Wedding plans are for February 16.

Knob Noster Club Has Afternoon Party

The Knob Noster Garden Club met with Mrs. Robert Thompson Friday afternoon with 16 members present. Rooms were decorated with Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Virgil Lane, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Robert Thompson, program chairman, was in charge of the program.

The group sang, "Silent Night," before Mrs. F. M. Crowder read the Christmas Story from Luke and Mrs. Thompson offered a prayer.

The group sang another carol. Mrs. J. L. Woody gave a paper on Christmas preparations, including decorations inside and outside, trimming the Christmas tree, Christmas dinner, refreshments for a Christmas party and giving presents.

Members brought Christmas arrangements. Gifts were distributed from the Christmas tree by Mrs. Merle A. Matthews.

Mrs. Thompson served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Install Job's Daughters Officers

Miss Kay Richardson Is Honored Queen Of Bethel 15, Installed in Ceremony

Miss Kay Richardson was installed as Honored Queen of Bethel 15 International Order of Job's Daughters at a public installation held Wednesday evening Dec. 12 at the Masonic Temple.

As Miss Sue Heckart, accompanied by her mother, played a flute solo, Miss Diana Graham and Miss Mary Louise Schwenk lighted the candles before a beautiful setting of green and gold.

The ceremony was opened by the Bethel Guardian, Mrs. Ray Crosslin, who gave a greeting of welcome to all who were present. She was escorted to the East by the installing custodians, Miss Cara Taylor, Past Honored Queen, and Mrs. Bernice Bacon Gloth, Past Honored Queen.

King Hyatt, associate Guardian, presented Miss Karen Crosslin, retiring Honored Queen, as the installing officer.

Other installing officers were Donna Richardson Whiteside, PHQ, as guide; Kay Satterwhite, PHQ, as marshal; Ann Sager, recorder; Ruthanne Zulauf Phillips, PHQ, chaplain; Nancy Vaughn Vilmer, PHQ, flag bearer; and Mrs. Del Heckart, musician.

Miss Kay Harlan placed the Bible on the altar, assisted by Deanie Perkins, JoAnn Iman, Jane Black, Virginia Hendricks, Sheilah Isgur, Deloris Light and Delores Gwinn. As the lights were dimmed, the girls knelt with small white Bibles, while Dick Shoemaker sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

Nancy Vaughn Vilmer, PHQ, presented the American flag and gave the tribute, before the Bethel flag was presented by Ann Sager, who also gave a tribute.

Miss Kay Richardson was given the obligation and was installed as Honored Queen of the Bethel. She was then escorted to the East where she was presented a bouquet of pink roses by Sue Ann Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Richardson. Dick Shoemaker sang a song to Kay, who then introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Richardson.

She wore a sheer white formal of Swiss embroidered organza with a light turquoise cummerbund.

The following elected officers were installed: Donna Anderson, Senior Princess; Rita Napier, Junior Princess; Jacquelin Wilson, guide, and Vicki Hunnell, marshal.

The appointed officers are, Joan Ritzenthaler, outer guard; Pat Parker, inner guard; Judy Gardner, junior custodian; Diane Stephenson, senior custodian; Arlene Hendricks, first messenger; Linda Ohlrich, second messenger; Sherry Parker, third messenger; Sheila Merry, fourth messenger; and Linda Landes, fifth messenger.

JoAnn Patrick, librarian; Donna Nave, musician; Carol Hyatt, recorder; Judy Griggs, treasurer; Doris Sigman, chaplain; Diana Sklar and Barbara Zalin, pages, and Sue Walcott, flag bearer.

Pro-tem officers for the ensuing term of office are, Sharon Fischer, outer guard; Anne Hayden, inner guard; Carol Hampton, junior custodian; Charla Hurt, senior custodian; Judy McDonald, first messenger; Karen Herrman, second messenger; Nancy Swearingin, third messenger; Sheilah Isgur, fourth messenger and Linda Dickerson, fifth messenger.

J. Kuhns Have 58th Wedding Anniversary

Fifty-eight years ago, December 21, 1898, the shortest day in the year, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kuhn, 510 North Grand, were married in Sedalia.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank L. Cook, pastor of the East Broadway Christian Church. Deep snow covered the ground following a blizzard that struck the area after a heavy rainfall. The snow was so deep, in fact, that the officiating minister went through the snowstorm on horseback, as its depth was such that walking through it would have been extremely difficult.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Kuhn was from Lebanon, Mo. She is now 78 years old, and has been hospitalized for a long period, but recently has been showing some improvement.

Mr. Kuhn, 81, who holds the record years gone by of being Sedalia's oldest newsboy, is now retired and is living quietly at the home where felicitations to the well known residents were received from an exceptionally large number of relatives and friends.

two til five at her home, 1020 South Harrison, for Jobs' Daughters and Council members.

The home was decorated with the Christmas motif. The dining table centerpiece was white chrysanthemums and deep pink roses.

Miss Rita Napier, Junior Princess, and Miss Sheila Merry, presided at the punch bowl.

Regional Library Notes--

Several Books Available
On India, Prime Minister

On Tuesday night, Dec. 18, many people heard a short address made by Jawaharlal Nehru, India's powerful prime minister. Appearing before a radio and television audience while here visiting with President Eisenhower, Nehru expressed his country's faith in the close cooperation and friendship of the United States and India; and stated briefly his theory on relations with other countries of the world.

As the man who guides the destinies of millions, Nehru is a most influential personage. Whether you agree or disagree with this gentleman's political and economic theories, it is important to know something of the man who is so important on the whole scene. Boonslick Regional Library has material available from short sketches such as appear in "Current Biography" to a full length account of his life written by Frank Moraes and titled simply "Jawaharlal Nehru." The author, who edits the Times of India, has been a close observer of Nehru's career for many years, and his biography of the Indian leader furnishes an insight into this country which has progressed so far in a few years and which now holds such a vital position in the struggle between Communism and Democracy.

Other items available through the Regional Library on India include: "Independence and After" by Nehru; "Home to India" and "This Is India" by Santha Rama Rau; and Robert Turnbull's "As I See India."

This week's bookmobile schedule:

There will be no bookmobile runs made during Christmas week except that the LaMonte downtown stop will be made on Friday, Dec. 28, in downtown LaMonte, from 2 to 4.

4-H Club Has Meeting

The Oak Point 4-H Club met Dec. 13 at the home of Ewin Rumpf. Junior leaders were selected for the coming year by the 15 members present.

The next meeting will be Jan. 4 with Otto Tegtmeyer when Owen Fox will show a film. Plans will be discussed for a party.

Windsor Circle Holds Study on Mission Book

Mrs. Waldo Wheeler, Jr., was hostess to the Florence Harris Circle of the First Baptist Church of Windsor Monday evening. Mrs. Gene Womble, Jr., was the co-hostess. Mrs. Taylor Silver gave the devotional and an impressive story, "I Saw the World in Our Christmas Tree."

The Lottie Moon offering for foreign missions was taken. It was decided that next month's offering should be given to the Fidelis Class to place in the fund which they have started for refrigerator for the church kitchen.

Tray cards, with sprigs of holly which had been sent to Miss Josephine Henry from Maine, were made for the hospital.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Civic Council Meets

The Houstonia Civic Council met at the high school Tuesday night with eight present. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer. It was announced that $41 was cleared at the sale dinner.

The Sedalia Men's Choral Club will sing at the high school Feb. 5. Plans were also made for a sausage and pancake supper to be held Jan. 16 and the ham supper March 14.

The Nativity Scene and a tree has been placed in the downtown area.

Concordia School Has Operetta Presentation

The Concordia Public Grade School presented a six scene operetta "A Christmas to Remember," at the school gymnasium Monday night.

J. W. Richardson, music director, wrote the operetta in which all eight grades participated.

The high school program will be Dec. 21 at the auditorium with a band concert and various instrumental groups of the school will also present selections.

WELL, BY GEORGE!—George Washington's about the last person you'd expect to find in Moscow, but he's there—via a somewhat unflattering impersonation by Soviet actor A. Khovansky, left. Picture shows a scene in a production of "General Washington and the Water Witch," by Howard Fast, left-wing American author and playwright. Other players on the stage are A. Khovansky, as Gates, and L. Kasatkina, as Annie Anderson. Caption material from Soviet sources.

Family Resort Owners Are Proud of New Luxury Hotel

By HAL BOYLE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"It's nice sometimes to find that dreams really can come true," said the blue-eyed, middle-aged lady, looking down from the balcony to the sun-worshippers on the beach.

"Yeah," said her husband, com-monarch of all they surveyed except the ocean itself.

They are Al and Sadye Tisch who, with their two sons, Larry, 33, and Bob, 30, in a single decade have become the "world's largest family resort owners."

Their dream came true in the fabulous 17-million-dollar Americana, Florida's "hotel of the year."

The building is a 15-floor luxury symbol of the postwar prosperity spree that has come to the United States and to a family—the four Tischs. It is the house that jack built, and there's more jack where it came from.

Ten years ago Al, a former New York City college basketball player, and Sadye, who is vivacious and does the talking for the elder branch of the family, were coming here. Do you know 7 million people visited Florida last year?

"Yeah," said Al, who is balding, silent and friendly.

"We came to Florida in 1946, but we couldn't make the right deal," said Sadye, who is vivacious and does the talking for the elder branch of the family.

"Yeah," said Al, who is balding, silent and friendly.

So they picked up the million dollars or so they had to invest and began buying hotels elsewhere — Laurel - in - the - Pines in New Jersey, the Belmont Plaza in New York, the Taymore and Ambassador in Atlantic City, and some six other properties. Whatever they touched turned to gold, or, if it didn't they got rid of it quick.

"But we still had Florida sand in our shoes," said Sadye. "We kept coming back to our first dream. For a while we were afraid that Miami Beach was overbuilt, oversold, and overcrowded. But year after year we checked, and found that more and more people were coming here. Do you know 7 million people visited Florida last year?"

"Yeah," said Al.

In the spring of 1955 they bought a 10-acre site here, a 650-foot beachfront, and 17 months and 17 million dollars later they had the Americana.

The original million dollars or so they started with has been parlayed into properties which the Tischs themselves value at 50 million or more. There are rumors that some of the glamor host-esses here have been financed

Black Jack 4-H Club Holds Party, Meeting

The Black Jack 4-H Club met at the community center Dec. 10 for a Christmas party and short meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Garry Eichholz, who led the 4-H Pledge and Pledge of Allegiance.

Dickie Dittmer led in singing carols.

Carolyn L. Oehrke, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Monsees, sang "He." Poems were recited by Richard Oehrke, Virginia Page, Carolyn Page, and Robert Rages. Leah Lewis played a selection.

A gift exchange and Christmas party were enjoyed.

Refreshments were served by Elizabeth Sanders and Leah Lewis.

by foreign adventurers, including racketeers from New York and gamblers from Las Vegas.

"Every penny in this hotel is ours," said Sadye. "We are a closely knit family, and the money all comes from the same pot."

Each hotel the Tischs buy becomes a monument to one of the family, and the Americana is "Larry's Baby—he deserves all the credit."

It is hard to describe the hotel. At last week's NBC convention its 475 rooms housed more than 900 guests who were cared for by a staff of more than 900 employees.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

Actor Drops Western Roles For Singing

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Davy Crockett singing at the Met? It could happen. Fess Parker, whose Davy days are behind him, is branching out into other fields. One is singing. His reasoning: "There must be 18 or 20 actors who can do Westerns as well or better than I can. But only Howard Keel and Gordon MacRae have the voices and names to handle top singing roles. Now I don't see any reason why they shouldn't share that field."

I dropped into Lear's studio on the Sunset Strip and listened to a special concert by the new Fess. He's not just talking about his ambitions. Being a Texan, he's taking action. For the past six months, he has been studying voice an hour a day, five days a week under operatic coach Edwin Lear.

"Ole Man River" that made you feel like toting that barge and lifting that bale. Then he and Lear combined in an operatic aria that shook the walls.

I asked Lear about Fess' possibilities.

"As far as handling singing roles like 'Pajama Game,' I think he could be ready in a few months," the coach said. "As for opera, that takes at least two years of study. I think Fess could make it. He has the voice and he has the desire to work, which is most important."

"I've done 'Pagliacci' 19 times and I've sung it, with many baritones who were no better than Fess in his present stage of development."

Fess has been able to study intensively, since he hasn't made a picture since "Westward Ho the Wagons" last March.
